56 During tonight's BAC, one of the members mentioned an analysis they had done of the staffing ratios across schools that raised a question for me about how we looked at our budget before launching it. It sounds like she did an analysis of ranking the total spend at schools (unclear if it was just instructional total or the overall total) and noted that there was an inverse relationship between the highest funded schools and demographic diversity.

A couple of questions that raised:

- 1) Did we do an analysis like this looking at when we built out the budget? If yes, what did it tell us and what are the headline messages that came out of it? If not, is this something we could do going forward (especially in a new budgeting platform)?
- 2) A messaging question: When this comes to us from the community, do we have a response to this push?

I do not believe that her analysis factored in enrollment, which likely explains some of this differential. However, I think this raises the same 5.3(ve a re)51aE3)-.9 2 so

DATE: April 4, 2022
TO:

BUDGET QUESTION: If we were able to fund one additional FTE to support student math achievement, what would the Academic Office recommend the position be? What is the cost? Same question for five FTE's.

RESPONSE:

The Office of Academics recommends the funding of an additional Math supervisor position to allow for targeted leadership for elementary and secondary math instruction. This staffing would align with the structure of the Office of English Language Arts leadership, with a Supervisor of Elementary Mathematics and a Supervisor of Secondary Mathematics. Creating an additional supervisor position within the Office of Mathematics would allow the time and attention necessary to better meet the unique needs of school staff based on level in the following areas:

- Focused and targeted support of new curricular resources at each academic level
- More thorough monitoring and support with curricular resource development, including assessments
- Increased observations and feedback to support coach and teacher growth as well as monitor and support best instructional practices at each level
- Greater opportunities to strengthen equitable instructional practices at each level
- More effective support, remediation and extension/enrichment at each academic level
- Focused and targeted support of upcoming curriculum and course changes
- More strategic individual school support driven by frequent data analysis and planning with schools
- Focused and targeted professional learning based on data.

The creation of an additional supervisor position would also allow for additional time- o n10.5 ( s)-2 (u)port o family and community engagement at each level including but not limited to increasing family information sessions and parent/guardian workshops. The cost for a 1.0 Math supervisor position is $151,621.

Should there be five FTE's allocated to support math achievement, the Office of Academics recommends funding 1.0 Math supervisor and 4.0 high school Math Coaches. Creating the high school Math Coach positions to serve all three comprehensive high schools, HB Woodlawn and ACC would offer necessary support to strengthen high school instruction and options for APS students. Upcoming curriculum changes will have the greatest impact on high school courses and will necessitate job-embedded professional learning due to the shifts in instructional practices and structures for an effective implementation of the new curriculum. Currently, high school lead teachers support teachers with professional growth and with ensuring that classroom in

BUDGET QUESTION: Is the $350K for professional development through Restorative DC in the Superintendent's budget proposal? If not, how much do we have in the proposed budget for professional development to teach restorative justice and add restorative justice programs?

RESPONSE: We are fully invested in providing schools with training to support implementation of Restorative practices. During the current school year, we have provided the following professional development opportunities to administrators, school-based mental health teams and teachers; Restorative Mindset, Basic Circle Process, and Community-Building Circles. Additionally, we recently committed to enhance our partnership with Restorative Arlington to offer support for Restorative Justice in Education in the fourth quarter of FY22 using
