~~This is a budget for last year (not updated for new data)~~ have recommendation(s)

prior to the budget being released at the end of February 2024

Because of the timeframe, our meetings this first half of the school year will be much more focused on our recommendation while we envision the second half of the school year's meetings to be focused on other math topics

We briefly discussed this issue, with more to come in future meetings after the first tests' results

Even though the test is done to various grades over a certain time period, all results will be released to parents at one time via ParentVue

Carl Seward and Shannan Ellis (faculty advisers) said new screener has more of a focus on Algebra readiness

It is the screener that Fairfax and Montgomery County use

English Learner and SPED offices will be there too to help present on the SOL math results for their respective categories

We were given a preview of some of those results, but the detailed math results from the SOL will be fully released there

Huge correlation too between attendance and poor math performance at APS

- f. We also had a discussion of how SOL results are used for curriculum at the school, vs. screeners (screeners are used much more for addressing a child's needs, but SOL results are also used)
